

FAIR VALUE REPORTING STATEMENTS DISCLAIMER

THE FOLLOWING PROVISION APPLIES ONLY TO FAIR VALUE REPORTING STATEMENTS:

The Fair Value Reporting statement has been prepared to facilitate ASU 820, ASU 715 and other Fair Value reporting requirements by a "reporting entity" as such term is used in fair value regulations. The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation affiliate (the "bank"), which has produced this statement, does not consider itself to be a "reporting entity" as that term is used in fair value regulations. A "reporting entity" which incorporates or otherwise uses all or a portion of the information reflected in this statement in the preparation of a report which complies with GAAP or fair value regulations should consider the procedures, practices or policies utilized by the bank and consider the relevant SSAE 16 (previously SAS 70) in connection with any judgments or certifications which it makes with respect to the content of this statement. Note that under the bank's procedures, the client and/or their portfolio managers may direct the bank as to an asset's appropriate fair value level. In addition, note that the bank's fair value level methodology is based on asset class, rather than the methodology specifically set forth in fair value guidance. Further information regarding the bank's approach to fair value levels may be obtained from your account officer.

FT INTERACTIVE: If data from FT Interactive contains evaluations rather than market quotations the following provisions apply: 1) Evaluated securities are typically complicated financial instruments. There are many methodologies (including computer-based analytical modeling and individual security evaluations) available to generate approximations of the market value of such securities, and there is significant professional disagreement about which is best. No evaluation method, including those used by FT Interactive, may consistently generate approximations that correspond to actual "traded" prices of the instrument; 2) FT Interactive's methodologies used to provide the pricing portion of certain data may rely on evaluations; however you acknowledge that there may be errors or defections in FT Interactive's software, databases, or methodologies that may cause resultant evaluations to be inappropriate for use in certain applications; and 3) you assume all responsibility for edit checking, external verification of evaluations, and ultimately the appropriateness of use of evaluations and other pricing data provided via the service in your applications, regardless of efforts made by FT Interactive in this respect. You shall indemnify and hold FT Interactive completely harmless in the event that errors, defects, or inappropriate evaluations are made available via the service or data.
